

Jambalayapalooza

benefiting  WEAVE inc

Who: Goyette & Associates, Inc., Attorneys at Law, present Jambalayapalooza to spice up the conversation of finding legal solutions for victims of domestic violence. Neil Forester, Head of the Family Law Division at Goyette & Associates and WEAVE Board Member, will craft his secret Jambalaya recipes perfected through years of trial (and error) in such Cajun cooking hotbeds as Wyoming, Santa Barbara, and Placerville.

Neil promises a version suitable to the refined tastes and untarnished palates of Sacramento, as well as the famed "nuclear" option for those who wish to achieve total clarity through spice. The cuisine will be complimented by libations influenced by the Southern origins of the signature dish. Event sponsorships from $100 to $1,000 are available to fit every budget and all sponsorships include event tickets. For more information, go to www.weaveinc.org.

When: Thursday, October 18, 2012
5:30 p.m.

Where: Suite 50, 1801 L Street (formerly L Wine Lounge)
Sacramento, CA 95811

Why: Most victims of domestic violence require some form of legal assistance to move past the violence and towards a life free of violence. Funding cuts and shrinking community resources have affected WEAVE's ability to meet a growing demand. A robust legal program will provide victims with the tools needed to quickly respond to ensure their safety and bring an end to the violent relationship.

How Much: Sponsorships available from $100 to $1,000. All sponsorships include event tickets.
Individual Tickets $25
